influence attitudes, behaviours and policies. Methods We conducted seven case studies, each telling the story of an initiative designed to bring about attitudinal, behavioural or policy change. The seven case studies were selected to reflect a range of key elements: different goals (e.g. prevention, harm minimisation, new behaviour adoption);

Changing attitudes, knowledge and behaviour

Studies have demonstrated that, in some cases, pointing out inconsistencies between attitudes and behavior can redirect the behavior. In the case of the school supporter, showing that their actions (i.e., not

In psychology, an attitude refers to a set of emotions, beliefs, and behaviors toward a particular object, person, thing, or event. Attitudes are often the result of experience or upbringing, and they can have a powerful influence over behavior. While attitudes are enduring, they can also change. Illustration by JR Bee, Verywell

~~School behaviour management case studies report - GOV.UK~~

The study of attitude-behavior consistency concerns the degree to which people ' s attitudes (opinions) predict their behavior (actions). Attitude-behavior consistency exists when there is a strong relation between opinions and actions. For example, a person with a positive attitude toward protecting the environment who recycles paper and bottles shows high attitude-behavior consistency.
